

Fredrick Replaces Herb Engelbrecht

Walter Fredrick Jr., superintendent of schools at Grundy Center, will replace H. C. Engelbrecht as Wartburg College business manager July 1.

Fredrick, a Wartburg graduate and former president of the Alumni Association in 1956-58, comes to Wartburg after 22 years of teaching experience, 18 as a school superintendent.

Fredrick, who taught in Waverly in 1943-44, is 43 and will have an official title of assistant to the president in business affairs.

'Uncle Herb' Familiar

Engelbrecht, better known around campus as "Uncle Herb," submitted his resignation to the executive committee of the Board of Regents last Friday in somewhat of a surprise move.

"I've always felt that if you want to do something else, why, go ahead and do it. I've decided I'd like to do something else," said Engelbrecht, although his "plans are not hurried."

Vacation Upcoming

He said that he'd never had a real vacation in his 13 years at Wartburg and that he'd just like a change of pace. Engelbrecht added that he has no specific plans except relaxing for a change, but indicated he might like to get back into teaching.

"I just thought I'd let the Board know in time so they could find a man and I think they've found a good one. I'm sure he'll do an excellent job," he commented, adding that he didn't think anything was going to crash in because he was leaving.

Junior Students To Give Recital

Three junior music students will present a recital Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Chapel-auditorium.

Marilyn Schlake, instrumentalist from Garnavillo, will play "Sonata for E flat Saxophone and Piano" by Bernhard Heiden. Jayne Christensen, sophomore, will accompany her.

Baritone William Dietz of Ness City, Kansas, will sing "O del mio dolce ardor" by Gluck, "In Diesen Heil'gen Hallen" by Mozart, "Der Wanderer" by Schubert, "There is a Lady Sweet and Kind" by Norman DelloJoio and "Milkmaids" by John Edmunds.

Dietz will be accompanied by Barbara Dietz, a senior.

David Nickel, pianist from Clara City, Minn., will play "Song" and "From a Wandering Iceberg," two pieces from "The Sea Pieces, Op. 55" by Mac Dowell.

"Wild Chase" and "Polonaise" from the "Virtuoso Etudes, Op. 46" by Mac Dowell will also be played by Nickel.

thick of things whenever there is a conference of outsiders on campus, came to Wartburg in 1949 after having been superintendent at Nevada High School for 15 years and a teacher and principal at Belmond High School for five years before that.

When he first came to Wartburg, Engelbrecht was head of public relations for two years. At that time admissions, the alumni office and the news bureau were all part of the department that Engelbrecht headed.

Engelbrecht Replaced By 4

Now there are four separate departments, but Engelbrecht minimized his accomplishments by saying there were "only 400 students here at the time."

When a sudden vacancy occurred in the business office, the Board of Regents promoted Engelbrecht to his present position.

He has had charge of budgets (to show the magnitude of this item, Engelbrecht commented that next year's budget might reach 1½ million dollars), all of the buying in the earlier days, purchasing land, renting facilities, student labor and student loans.

Changes Frequent

"I've seen quite a lot of changes in this whole picture, but I don't like to be nostalgic or emotional," Engelbrecht said. "I certainly wish the college well and hope it will grow and expand."

He has been active in church work, serving as Iowa District Brotherhood president and also as a counselor of the National Lutheran Council.

In addition to church work, Engelbrecht has done a great deal in community work, including a two-year term as president of the Waverly Chamber of Commerce. In youth work he organized and directed a Bible camp at Clear Lake in addition to extensive work with the Boy Scouts.

President Adds Praise

President C. H. Becker had only words of praise for the job done by Engelbrecht.

"After we both graduated from Wartburg, our ways then separated for more than twenty-five years. We both returned to our alma mater, and for 13 years Wartburg College . . . became our constant concern," President Becker said.

"I personally can only say that I will miss him, but I am deeply grateful for all he has done for the college and for my family, and may I wish him success and happiness," Dr. Becker concluded.

Proudly New To Faculty

James L. Proudly, instructor in biology, will replace Mrs. Judith Krause Halamka of the Wartburg faculty beginning next fall.

Proudly is a native of South Dakota and received his B.A. degree from Drake University in 1960 with departmental honors. He will receive his M. A. degree from Drake this summer.

Proudly was also a student assistant and a chemical laboratory technician for the Brown Engineering Company. The new biology instructor is married and has one child.

Wartburg Coeds Compete For Title Of Miss Waverly

By Lois Plotter

Five Wartburg coeds will be competing in the "Miss Waverly" contest tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Chapel-auditorium.

Five Waverly-Shell Rock high school girls are also finalists in the Miss Waverly Pageant, sponsored by the Waverly Jaycees and professional people and merchants.

Wartburg's finalists are Betty Kalkwarf, Donna Ostendorf, Ellen Reuss, Jan Walendy and Jan Wegenast.

Miss Kalkwarf From Ill.

Miss Kalkwarf, 18, is a freshman from Sterling, Ill. As a foreign language major, she is planning to teach in the new elementary school foreign language program. Miss Kalkwarf is studying piano and voice, and for her talent will play the piano.

A sophomore English major from Grundy Center is Miss Ostendorf, 20. For her talent phase of the contest, she will sing and play the piano. In addition to her English major, Miss Ostendorf is studying voice this year.

Psychology Interests One

Miss Reuss, 19, hails from Minneapolis, Minn., and is a liberal arts freshman. Her major interests are psychology and English. For her part in the talent phase she will perform in dramatics. She plans a teaching career of social work in the field of psychology.

A junior entrant from Fargo, N.D., is Jan Wegenast. As an elementary education major, Miss Wegenast plans to teach in the primary grades.

She was an attendant to the Fall Sports Queen and also a candidate for Carnival Queen this year. For her talent she plans to present a humorous pantomime.

Pi Sig Queen Entered

The fifth Wartburg finalist is Jan Walendy, 19. She is an elementary education and home economics major from Clarendon Hills, Ill., and was Pi Sigma Queen at this year's Christmas dance.

Her talent for the pageant will be a character dance from the Broadway musical "Bye, Bye, Birdie," based on the number "Put on a Happy Face."

The five Waverly finalists include Claudia Lampe, Nancy Bunker, Glenyce Napiecek, Alice Paull and Shirlee Baker.

Winner Gets Loot

The winner will receive a scholarship; the Miss Waverly trophy; a gown, which she will wear in the state contest; and an expense-paid trip for her and her chaperone to the Miss Iowa contest this summer in Clear Lake.

The pageant will include a talent performance and an appearance in evening gowns and in swim suits by each contestant.

Sophomores Sign

All sophomores who plan to go into teacher education are reminded by Dr. Herbert Max, head of the Education Department, to sign up for interviews with members of the Education Department on Tuesday and Thursday next week.

Press Banquet Features Presentation Of Awards

The fifteenth annual college Press Banquet was held last Sunday at Carver's Restaurant with award presentations to staffs of the Trumpet and Fortress highlighting the program.

Guest speaker was Charlie Gebhard, humor columnist of the Waverly Independent and Democrat. His speech followed the banquet theme, "Humor Nowadaze."

Three Get Second Award

Second-year Trumpet pins were awarded to juniors Paul Mardorf and Paul Baumgarten and sophomore John Stumme.

Six staff members received first-year award letters. Juniors Terry Witwer, Carolyn Chatlos and Judy Hammond and sophomores Lois Plotter, Myron Schober and Paul Eisenhauer were the recipients of these awards.

Fortress co-editors Rhoda Schmidt and Myrna Boyken presented pins to their staff. First-year awards were presented to senior Ilomae Nieman and freshmen Marlys Otto and Henry Hughes.

Many Get Second Pin

The second-year silver pins and guards were given to sophomores Marcia Brenton, Linda Schalkhauser, Myrna Lau, Paul Eisenhauer and Myron Schober; freshman Paul Smriga; junior Pat Reab; and seniors Phyllis Schultz and Kathy Grimm.

The third-year Fortress award, a gold pin with guard, was presented to senior David Braunschweig. A special award was given to Carolyn Chatlos for the accumulation of points worth a four-year award.

Mrs. Margaret Garland, adviser for Trumpet and Fortress, presented the graduating senior award to Rosalie Froehlich, this year's Castle editor.

Convo Features Meeting, Movies

Faculty and student body meetings will be held during the convocations on Tuesday.

Thursday's convo will feature a film, part of the Oriental culture block. According to Mr. Richard Shellman, a member of the Convocations Committee, one or both of the following films will be shown, "Chinese Art" and "Treasure of Japan."

Spotlight Turns To Prom

"Roses in Gold" will highlight this evening as the Junior-Senior banquet and prom whirls into the spotlight.

The evening will begin with the banquet which will be held at St. Paul's parish house at 6:30 p.m. The program will roll along with the aid of junior Jim Schneider, master of ceremonies.

Following an invocation by Rev. Edwin Schick, a welcome will be given by junior class president, Joyce Brenke. A response will then be made by Milbern Goetz, senior class president.

The voices of juniors Phyllis Remmers and Ron Burrichter will provide the entertainment for the banqueters. Speaker for the event is Dean E. F. Oppermann, whose address will revolve around the theme of "Roses in Gold," with the special topic of "Here Is Life."

The remainder of the evening is reserved for dancing to the music of Tony Marterie. The dance, beginning at 9 p.m., will be held in Knights Gym. At midnight the special evening will come to a close.

Snook And Senate End Good Year

The big year is about over for Student Body President Al Snook as new president Dick Buchsteiner and the new Senate move into action Monday night.

Looking back over the year, one sees that Snook has done many of the things he promised to do in his campaign platform, contrary to what happens sometimes. To see just how much of his program he did accomplish, following is part of Snook's platform and what was done:

Election of student body officers immediately following the end of first semester and that these officers take office when they feel they are accustomed to student government enough to do so — Little success was met on this proposal. This year the elections were held March 16, about the same day as they were last year. However, this is over a month earlier than elections were held two years ago.

Support of a Senate resolution to place a member of the student body on the Educational Policies Committee — Snook served as a member of this important faculty committee this year. The real test will come in several weeks when the committee votes on whether to definitely seat a student body representative.

Installation of the split ticket in the student body officers elections — No success. This has been a proposal by candidates for several years and is also one of Buchsteiner's proposals for next year. It should have a fair chance of passing at last.

Publication of a monthly newsletter — A newsletter was published during the year but not always monthly.

Enlargement of the Student Senate by six members to give student government more contact with the housing units — This plan did not go through either, but in its place the Men's Coordinating Board came into being.

Designed to regulate and equalize control over men, the new board will be similar to the Women's Judiciary Council already established but will take care of only those problems that the dorm councils refer to them.

Along the line of representation, a needed change was made in the voting of upperclass senators. No longer does the voter have to pick two boys and one girl or vice versa. Now the top three vote-getters, regardless of sex, are elected as class senators. These two items are probably the most outstanding accomplishments during Snook's reign. More study could still be used on changing the election of senators from the four classes to the various housing units.

Publication and posting of agendas for Senate and student body meetings — This was done for a few times but was discontinued because the agendas and minutes were ripped down or otherwise mutilated.

Promotion of the newly formed ALC association of student governments — No doubt about this one. Snook and Senate certainly backed this to the limit since the conference was held here.

Analysis of value of the present testing procedures —

COMMUNISTS SAY USUAL THINGS AGAIN

May Day Talk Reiterated

By John Stumme

"The imperialists with their criminally aggressive plans are dreaming of plunging humanity into a sanguinary whirlpool of a new war . . . in every country we have one friend, the people . . . May Day will conquer."

"The aggressiveness of the policy of the Western powers is proved by the statement of the United States President to the effect that the United States would not hesitate to start a preventive atomic war against socialist countries."

"Given good will and a sensible approach, all international problems can be solved by peaceful means."

Russia 'Needs Peace'

To achieve "the irrefutable advantages of the Soviet system," the Soviet Union needs peace. This is the reason for the Leninist principle of peaceful co-existence.

These three quotations and the paraphrase were made in Moscow on May Days within the last 15 years. They demonstrate that the two main motifs of the Moscow May Day message have not changed.

The first two statements illustrate the Communist propaganda that the West is all "bad" and entirely responsible for world tensions. On May 1, 1947, "Pravda" published the first quote. Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky made the second remark last Tuesday.

Co-existence Emphasized

Nine years separate the last two statements, which emphasize Khrushchev's principle of peaceful co-existence. Malinovsky was again the source of the latter item. Nikolai Bulganin, then Defense Minister, spoke the other in 1953.

Other reminders of former May Days were also present this year. As before, Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other high-ranking Communist officials stood atop Lenin's tomb. Only a decade ago the now dishonored Joseph Stalin watched the May Day parade from the same position.

There was also a show of military weapons. But the expeditions of power that Stalin saw were larger than any of those since 1953 have been. In fact, the display of weapons

Not studied this year but would still make quite an interesting study.

Consideration of having senior students help professors counsel freshmen in their major fields at first semester registration — Another excellent suggestion. This failed to materialize.

Consideration with department heads of establishing reading courses for senior students in their major fields — Although there was little Snook and the Senate could do in this regard, the idea of expanded independent study was discussed by several committees.

Increased emphasis on low-budget, informal activities — Union parties and additional dances were results of the Social Activities Committee action this year. Another important addition was the first Frost Weekend, which proved to be quite successful.

Sub-committee for time-consuming problems — Not as extensively carried out as it might have been. Sub-committees such as a cafeteria committee and a carnival research committee were set up to make studies.

This was most of Snook's platform. Naturally, not everything was done, but a significant amount was accomplished to make this one of the Senate's better years as far as action goes.

Much of the credit for an inspired, active year must go to Snook, who was probably one of the better student body presidents that Wartburg has had. Snook did many things that are overlooked because he did them so well that they just weren't noticed.

Effective student government is molded around and by a good student body president, and Al Snook certainly served as a good model of excellence in his year just ending.

Top Performances Aid In Track Win

By John Niemeyer

Wartburg won its second dual track meet of the season Wednesday by defeating a small Upper Iowa squad, 97½ to 33½, before a large Visitation Day crowd.

Track Coach Dave Olson said, "Although our victory was substantial, it does not indicate such vast improvement on our part. Although we did have improvement, it was not great, but it is encouraging."

Columbus Scores Record

Outstanding performance came from many individuals. Sophomore Lothar Columbus ran an excellent two-mile run, missing the school record by only four seconds.

Senior John Niemeyer ran his fastest collegiate race when he ran the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.8. Both Harold Shudlick and Joel Niemann also ran their fastest hurdle race.

Another fine performance was turned in by an improving Bill Reents, who ran the half mile in 2:06.8.

Hinrichs Takes Discus

The discus was won by Leland Hinrichs when he tossed the platter 129' 8", his best toss of the season.

Record-setting pole vaulter Dixon Zander had a pinched nerve in his leg and vaulted only once to win his event at 11', over two feet below his school mark.

Today the thinclads are participating in an all-Lutheran college meet, the Viking Olympics at Rock Island, Ill. Last year Wartburg finished fifth.

Finish Could Be Better

Olson feels that the squad can improve upon this finish if the hurdlers, high jumpers, pole vaulter, and the rest of the team put forth great efforts.

The next few weeks will be a struggle as the Knights will face Simpson Tuesday, Luther on Saturday and Buena Vista on May 15.

Netsters Trying For Fourth Win

Wartburg tennis men will try for their fourth dual meet victory of the year on the local courts this afternoon against Central after losing their first contest of the year yesterday.

Defending conference champion Dubuque beat the Knights, 5-2, yesterday as senior Don Dietzler and sophomore Dave Shalkhauser salvaged the only points by winning their singles matches. Shalkhauser's match was the only one to go just two sets as all the others went three.

The Knights had picked up their third straight win last Wednesday by downing Luther, 6-3, and improved their conference prospects. Number one man Larry Mugridge and number six man Dave Braunschweig were the only singles losers.

PICKING UP SPLINTERS

Columnist Lists Qualities Of Star

By Paul Baumgarten

Baumgarten

Have you ever seen or met a great athlete? What did you see in him if you did? If you haven't seen one, what would you expect to see if one was pointed out to you?

With these questions in mind I set out earlier this week to interview several persons intimately connected with the world of sports, all of whom had their ideas on the subject.

We began upon the basis that our mythical subject was a good physical specimen. All of those interviewed stated that this was the necessary starting point.

All agreed that, next, the so-called star had to have a drive to win and to keep battling despite what the odds seemed to be. This was described in a variety of terms varying from competitive heart to guts. The point was made repeatedly that to be great the athlete had to possess this particular quality.

From this point on opinion began to become more diverse. One of the most-mentioned features was that, to be great, one had to be very attentive to details and practice. It was felt this would give him opportunities the ordinary performer missed.

Further, he must be one with his emotions perfectly under control. He had to be at all times ready to take advantage of a competitive mistake of an opponent. He must have a hard-nosed attitude, he must be going all out all of the time, he is never the dirty player, he always gives more than the situation demands.

Most of all, he must be sincere in his endeavor. He must be interested enough in his sport to be willing to sacrifice much of his time and a tremendous amount of energy in his undertaking.

Last of all, he is not the glory hound. He plays for the benefit of the team rather than himself. He avoids the spectacular play which is for the benefit of the spectator alone. He realizes, finally, that the day will come when he will be beaten and another will be the champion or the star, and he conducts himself accordingly.

The general consensus was that you could often pick the great athlete from a crowd. He carries himself with a certain air of quiet confidence and is always as much a gentleman off the field as on.

You probably have your own ideas of what you would expect to see in a star. They may or may not agree with these.

Remember, however, not to expect too much of him. He is also human.

IM Softball Initiated

Six softball games were played during the past week as the intramural program continued in full swing with the softball tournament.

Don Dietzler pitched Cotta to a 7-1 victory over Clinton I-Basement. Darrel Gerriets and his reliever, Bill Mantei, did the mound work for Clinton III to defeat North Hall in a close game, 8-7. Both games were played Monday afternoon.

In Tuesday's games Married Men, with Bill Riggle holding Grossmann II to only one run, defeated the Grossmann nine by a score of 5-1.

Clinton II put down a Grossmann I-Basement seventh inning rally to win, 6-5. Keith Stadtmueller did the hill work for Clinton II.

The hitters dominated the games played Thursday afternoon as 38 runs were scored in two games. Off Campus I defeated Clinton III, 11-7, and Cotta trounced Grossmann III, 18-2.

Hinrichs, Davis Top IM Bowlers

Sophomore Leland Hinrichs, bowling without handicap points, rolled 616, the high series in men's singles competition last week.

Freshman Denny Davis, however, fired the highest scratch game, an outstanding 228 effort.

Junior Lou Ann Pleggenkühle won the women's singles as she shot a 561 handicap series, although she lost the high game honor to senior Angeline Petersen, who bowled 183.

Knights Lose League Lead

By Paul Mardorf

The Knights have fallen from the top of the Iowa Conference despite no losses.

Buena Vista, which won its only two conference ball games last Saturday, has taken over the lead. Since these were the first two conference games for the Beavers because of wet grounds, they have an unmarred loss column while the Knights have been beaten once.

Today's Games Important

Therefore, the two ball games with the University of Dubuque here this afternoon are of the utmost importance.

Dubuque has had its troubles this season. The Spartans have yet to win a game and have played only two contests. The weatherman took care of the other four scheduled conference games with unfavorable weather.

Rain Erases Shutout

Last Saturday the Opiemen virtually swept a doubleheader from Iowa Wesleyan. However, due to rain the second game was called with the Knights leading, 6-0.

In the first game, which does go in the record book, sophomore southpaw Dave Langrock gave up two runs on nine hits to lead the Knights to an 11-2 win.

He was helped by seven costly Iowa Wesleyan errors. The Knights battered Tiger pitchers for twelve hits.

Langrock Hitting Pitcher

day at the plate in addition to being the game's winning pitcher. In the first game he got three hits in five attempts, and he had a three-run homer in the second inning of the uncounted contest.

Sophomore Bob Matthias had a perfect afternoon at the plate, gathering two hits in two at-bats.

In a non-conference game Wednesday, the Panthers of State College of Iowa downed the Knights, 4-3, before a large Visitation Day crowd.

Homer Hurts Knights

Despite being a perfect afternoon weatherwise, the Knights could never gain the lead after a first inning solo home run by SCI's Ed Ware.

Knight southpaw Jim Borchering lost his first ball game of the year against three earlier wins. Another lefty, sophomore Bob Meyer, pitched outstanding shutout ball after coming on in the fourth inning.

Matthias had another excellent day at the plate, connecting on three of four attempts, one being a long triple. Another sophomore, Ray Bye, had another extra-base hit for the Knights, a triple in the sixth inning.

PRESIDENT SPARKS ACTION

Government Fired By Snook

By Luci Zenker

If there is one student on campus who is literally known by everyone it is Al Snook, student body president.

Before assuming the full-time responsibility of presiding over student government, Snook was chairman of the Elections Committee as a sophomore. During his junior year, he was chairman of both the Homecoming dance and the Junior-Senior prom.

Snook Likes Job

When asked if he would accept the office of president again if given the opportunity, he answered, "Yes, I'd like to," adding that it would be good if the SBP could be elected for a two-year term.

He said that it takes about one year to become acquainted with the office and all that it involves, and by the time one has reached this state, his term expires.

As Al reflects about the past year he says that he would do a few things differently, if given another chance. He said he would try to involve more students in student government.

VP Would Rise

He said he would also try to give the vice president a more prominent position. Snook pointed out that a move was made in this direction by appointing the vice president as chairman of the Men's Coordinating Board.

Even though he realizes the committees were busy this year, Snook said there were some slack periods when he could have tried to keep them busier.

He said, "I could have been more creative in this area."

But at the same time he said he realized that creativity was often hindered by traditional duties.

Fresh Would Get Info

If he again had the opportunity to be president, he said he would try to influence the incoming freshmen in their way of thinking about participating in student government and other activities before the upperclassmen asserted their influence.

As a high light of the year, Snook said, "We may be putting feathers in our hats, but I think it was the reincarnation of interest in student government."

He also added that the Men's Senior Board, which was started this year, could become something big.

Marines Next Stop

Next year Al, who comes from Coulter, will be attending Marine Aviation Officers Candidate School. After receiving his training in West Virginia, he will go to Florida for the remaining 18 months.

"I'll fly if I make it through grad school," he said.

Later he will decide whether or not to remain in the Marines or go on to graduate school.

As Snook's tremendous responsibility draws to a close he says, "I'm expecting a great and bigger year from Dick Buchsteiner and Fred Dierks, next year's student body officers."

AL SNOOK, STUDENT government leader at right, shows his vice president, Galen Hora, an important point. Both move out of their top roles next week.

Discussion Topic Is '52 Nixon Speech

The last Academic Life Committee discussion, on "Nixon Persuades a Nation," will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium, according to committee head Milbern Goetz.

The discussion will be an evaluation of the methods of persuasive public speaking as used by former Vice President Richard Nixon in his famous "Checkers" speech in the 1952 presidential campaign, according to Goetz.

John Ness of the Speech Department will be the discussion leader, and tapes and printed materials of the speech will be examined. Speech and political science students should be interested, said Goetz.

College Attracts Seniors, Parents

Spring Visitation last Wednesday brought 287 registered high school visitors plus 70 chaperones to the campus. Sixty-six parents registered for the annual Parents Day, combined with Visitation Day for the first time this year.

High school students came from five states. Iowa was represented by 219 students, parents and sponsors. Wisconsin had 85 here and Minnesota ranked third with 38 present.

Fourteen Illinois students and parents were on campus and one student came from Nebraska.
